

Caroline Kuhn - Voice, Guitar and Piano

Vocally trained in a wide variety of styles. Studied guitar, piano, ukulele, mandolin, banjo, as well as music theory. She began her career in NYC at the age of five, recording jingles and doing an assortment of voice-over and choral work. A recent graduate of The New England Conservatory of Music, Caroline spent the last four years completing her degree in contemporary improvisation. After spending time in Boston building upon her extensive experience singing harmony in a variety of styles, she returned to her native New York City and released her second solo EP, "City". Outside of her solo project, Caroline is an active member of the folk trio The Ladles.